

NEW GM WAGE MOVE LIKELY

Many Rumors As Steel Strike Is Still Unsettled

Nation-Wide Walkout Of 700,000 Steel Workers
Now In Eleventh
Day

STRIKE FRONT IS REPORTED QUIET

By JAMES L. KILGALLIN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 31.—The nation-wide walkout of 700,000 steel workers entered its eleventh day today with the air full of conflicting rumors concerning peace overtures in Washington.

Along the strike front the situation remained quiet, with strikers conducting themselves in an exceptionally orderly manner.

The strikers were becoming a bit bored as the walkout dragged on. Many of them had taken to visiting libraries in Pennsylvania mill towns and reading books to "kill time."

Further Layoffs

Further layoffs were reported in dependent industries and additional threats to the nation's economy was causing worry in some quarters.

Many banquets usually held in the Pittsburgh area were being cancelled. The strike was slowing things up steadily and will hurt more as time moves on.

Officials in Pittsburgh representing both "big steel" and the union were making time at the same time keeping a watchful eye on developments in Washington and New York.

Conjecture general was that settlement of the strike now hinges upon whether President Truman decides to relax his hold-the-line-price policy to obtain greater production.

Must Have Price Increases

Leaders of the steel industry have inferred that they cannot afford to grant the 18% cents an hour pay increase proposed by Mr. Truman unless the government allows an "adequate" increase in the price of steel.

Irving S. Olds, chairman of the board of U. S. Steel corporation, has stated that "a price increase in excess of $6.25 a ton is necessary to enable us to grant a wage increase of 18% cents an hour."

This is $2.25 higher than the $4-a-ton rise in steel prices which Washington sources have hinted the government might be willing to permit.

Seek Picket Agreement

In Pittsburgh attorneys for industry and the CIO were trying to privately thrash out their differences concerning "mass picketing."

The issue revolves around the action of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation in filing an injunction suit to prevent mass picketing at its Homestead works.

Judge Sara M. Soffel has allowed attorneys for both sides to discuss their differences privately during the past two days. She announced that unless an agreement or near agreement is reached today, she is prepared to act on the injunction suit.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Both a new driver's license, and new inspection sticker on your auto, are required after midnight. The state law requires both on February 1.

Apparently the war occasioned long use of the auto license tags in the state of Wisconsin. A car was noted on the streets here yesterday and the original tag was dated 1941.

Mild weather of yesterday allowed freed the streets and highways of the latest ice and snow accumulations. Likewise the weather ended the skating sport for a time.

Several young boys were enjoying themselves at the expense of passing young ladies in the downtown area, Wednesday afternoon. The mischievous lads would stand near a nice puddle of water and then wait until a girl would come along with her immaculate hose.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a. m. today follow:

Bell-Ringer Buck

Once upon a time in the town of Burlington, Iowa, there lived a cat named Buck—a very smart cat who used to pound on the mailbox lid when he wanted to get into his house. Upset by the noise, his owner, Joseph S. Kupka, fixed up a special door-bell which he attached to the mailbox lid. Now Buck just pushes the bell after a hard day of chasing mice and one of the Kupkas quickly lets him in.

Huge Exports May Explain Shortages Prevalent In U. S.

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(INS)—One of the answers to continued shortages in the United States of vital needed foodstuffs and manufactures may be seen today in Commerce department figures disclosing tremendous export totals.

Billions of dollars worth of food products, steel and iron products, automobiles, trucks and buses, construction machinery, office appliances, and other commodities have been shipped overseas. The shipments are continuing although not as heavily as heretofore.

The Bureau of Census reported that exports during the first 11 months of 1945 totaled $22 billion, $73 million, 338 thousand, 223 dollars. That figure includes lend-lease and UNRRA shipments.

Gigantic Increases

To Europe alone during that period went exports worth five billion, 103 million 868 thousand, 618 dollars. This compares with a total of one billion, 289 million, 311 thousand dollars in the calendar year 1939.

More revealing than the figures themselves is the breakdown which shows the enormous amounts of commodities—still short in the United States—shipped abroad.

Exports of manufactured goods totaled one billion, 105 million, 829 thousand, 876 dollars. This included 886 million, six thousand, 432 pounds of meat products worth 244 million, 21 thousand, 22 dollars.

Sugar Exported

Sugar and related products were exported in the amount of 31 million 625 thousand, 704 dollars. Exports of dairy products, fresh milk excepted, amounted to 198 million, 757 thousand, 278 dollars.

Iron and steel scrap exported amounted to two million, 238 thousand, 148 dollars, and semi-manufactures, 148 thousand, 222 dollars.

British Forces Join Occupation Of Japan Shortly

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(INS)—The state department announced today that the British empire forces will participate in the occupation of Japan beginning the first week of February. This will allow an undetermined number of U. S. troops to be sent home.

In making the announcement the department disclosed that Russia "has not accepted the invitation to participate" in the occupation task. China also invited, indicated her willingness but said she could not do so at this time.

The sentence was imposed last night immediately after a jury of six men and six women, following nearly four hours' deliberation, found the frail domestic guilty of manslaughter.

The state had asked the death sentence, charging premeditation. Mrs. Humphrey, mother of two children by a previous marriage, insisted during the trial that the killing was accidental.

Price Increases Urged As Method To Settle Strikes

Henry Ford II Latest Advocate
Of Such Method—
Sends Message To Snyder

WOULD REMOVE PRICE CEILINGS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Administration leaders studied a new appeal today for settlement of the nation's labor disputes through sufficient price increases to enable industries to meet reconversion wage demands of their employees.

The latest advocate of such action, already endorsed by some government officials, was Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Company which settled its wage dispute with the CIO-UAW a few days ago for an 18 cents hourly wage boost.

Ford, in a telegram to reconversion director John W. Snyder, declared that disputes in the automobile industry could be settled if price ceilings were removed.

Forced Shutdown Seen

The motor magnate also warned in the telegram that his plants would have to shut down this week unless steel is made available immediately.

The action advocated by the Ford Company president currently is being attempted by the administration in an effort to end the 11-day-old strike of 750,000 steel workers.

The administration is attempting to work out a steel price pool that will induce industry to accept President Truman's compromise proposal of an 18% cent hourly pay increase to steel workers.

Higher prices for the steel industry have been urged by civilian groups.

Lewis Looms As Back-Seat Driver In A.F. Of L. Plans

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 31.—(INS)—John L. Lewis today loomed as the big back-seat driver in the American Federation of Labor.

The boss of the United Mine Workers dominated the mid-winter session of the AFL executive council simply by returning to roost.

Nearing adjournment this afternoon the council plans to consider the labor situation in occupied Germany and to conclude its probe of the jurisdictional dispute in the motion picture industry, but Lewis remained the No. 1 figure of the 10-day meeting at Miami.

Thus far he has said little in public except that he wants to unify labor. As for his future strategy, he snapped off the brief reply: "We'll see."

See Lewis' Influence

That attitude, however, seemed more nervously reflected in the mind of tried and true AFL leaders than in Lewis' non-committal manner. Few would admit it openly, but privately many expect the deity of the AFL to fall largely under the influence of the miners' boss.

Sentimental federation men outwardly are happy to see Lewis back. Even AFL President William Green expressed hope that Lewis (Continued on Page Two)

U. N. O. Iran Conference Only Temporary Solution

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Diplomatic observers today viewed the compromise over handling of the Iranian case by the United Nations Council as only a temporary solution of what may prove to be a serious problem.

Concern was expressed by some diplomatic observers that the issues involved are so fundamental that they may determine whether or not the UNO is to prove an effective peace-keeping agency or fall into the same powerlessness as the League of Nations.

The more sober-minded were inclined to regard the troubles of UNO's early days as birth pains. Noting that the chief trouble over Iran arose purely around questions of procedure, they expressed the belief that a solution would ultimately be found for the opening difficulties.

Without Precedent

These analysts argued that UNO unlike any judicial or peace-keeping organization was without any precedent of an earlier body to govern its activities.

However, some important diplomats also feared the possibility that in its formative days, UNO may be called on to decide whether it is to (Continued on Page Two)

Compromise In General Motors Strike Possible

Second Session Of Negotiations
In Strike To Take Place This Afternoon

LABOR MEDIATOR NOW OPTIMISTIC

DETROIT, Jan. 31.—(INS)—

Indications today pointed to a possible compromise settlement of the United Automobile Workers wage dispute with General Motors Corp., despite failure of renewed negotiations to bring about harmony.

A second session between representatives of the strife-bound corporation and the union is scheduled for this afternoon.

Yesterday's meeting ended on a discordant note, with the union charging the corporation of bad faith in collective bargaining, but GM gave the first hint that it might make its 13 1/2-cent hourly wage boost offer if the union meets its terms.

Corporation Demands

Corporation contract demands include elimination of maintenance of membership clause, assurances of uninterrupted production and high individual productivity.

James F. Dewey, special labor department mediator who brought the disputants together after a lapse of more than three weeks, said he was optimistic that a solution can be reached. He admitted, however, that some "missionary" work would be needed.

Most observers believe the GM offer will be about 18% cents in the pattern set by the Chrysler Corporation last week.

Similarly, it was pointed out that Chrysler and the union agreed upon the wage figure several days before contract terms were approved.

The union and the Ford Company also reached accord on wages well in advance of their "gentlemen's agreement" covering wages and company security.

Carefully Worded Statement

The tip-off that GM may be contemplating a new wage offer was contained in a carefully worded statement prepared while the negotiators were in session. The corporation stated:

"We have nothing further to offer in the way of wage increases until the provisions of a new contract are worked out that gives (Continued on Page Two)

Lend-Lease Cost U. S. 46 Billions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(INS)—President Truman reported to Congress today that United States lend-lease aid to its allies cost the nation 46 billion dollars up to September 30, 1945.

The United States received in return through reverse lend-lease six billion 300 million dollars worth of supplies, facilities and services.

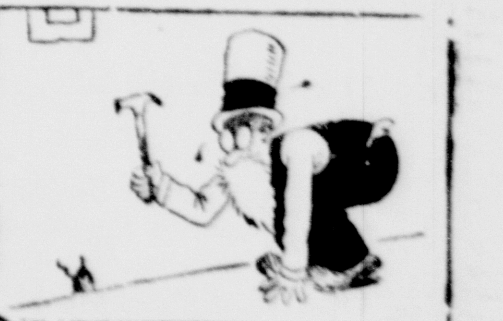

Mr. Truman in the 21st report on lend-lease operations disclosed that during the war period a total of 30 billion dollars went to the British empire and nearly 11 billion to the Soviet Union.

The president enumerated vast quantities of food and clothing, weapons, munitions, ships, petroleum and raw resources which America made available to her fighting allies.

The report showed that the cost of lend-lease during the last three months of the war against Japan after Germany's surrender was one billion, 900 million dollars.

Lend-lease aid was terminated by presidential order shortly after the Japanese surrender.

Seek To Learn More About Atomic Energy On Human Body, Seek Antidote

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Army scientists disclosed today that skin tissues taken from 60 Japanese victims of the atomic bomb are being studied by military and naval pathologists in Washington.

The scientists are determining more fully the effects of atomic energy on the human body and to learn whether a specific antidote is possible.

In addition to the specimens taken from bodies of atom bomb victims at Hiroshima and Nagasaki, members of army and navy technical commissions have obtained blood samples and clinical records from hundreds of persons who were not fatally injured by the A-bomb blasts.

The research is being pursued at the Army Institute of Pathology and the Naval Medical Research Institute.

UNO IRAN COMPROMISE TEMPORARY SOLUTION

to an effective organization or fall into the powerlessness of the league. Wednesday's dispute arose from the injection into the UNO calendar by Iran of that government's complaint that Russia had stimulated revolutionary elements in Azerbaijan, in northern Iran.

Britain and the United States sought to persuade Iran from raising this issue at the first meeting. The present concave had been planned only to organize UNO, choose officers, select a site and leave fundamental questions to a spring meeting.

Iran Insisted

Iran insisted on pressing the case and it was put on the UNO council program. Later the Iranian government was changed to one more friendly to Russia. The council therefore, proposed Wednesday that Iran and Russia try again to get together and settle their dispute, as the UNO charter provides.

Russia, however, insisted that the Iran case be removed from the council calendar pending the two sided talks. Britain opposed this and the United States backed Britain. The heat of the debate particularly by the Russians, rather than the issue, interested diplomats in Washington. The compromise agreed to remove the case with the understanding that the council would maintain an interest in the outcome.

Now still to be considered by the council is the Soviet allegation that Britain is guilty of aggression in Greece and Indonesia. Britain welcomes investigation of these charges since she wants to air her situation, particularly in Indonesia.

PRICE INCREASES URGED AS METHOD TO SETTLE STRIKES

duction administration John D. Small was said price controls should be more flexible to get production moving.

Course Urged

A similar course was advanced by some government officials two weeks ago in an effort to head off the brief strike of packinghouse workers which finally resulted in government seizure of the country's meat plants.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson was reported to have urged an increase of one-fourth to one-half cent per pound in retail meat prices to enable packers to grant wage demands.

OPA Chief Chester Brown, who has vigorously opposed advocates of industrial peace through the price method, stood firm against such a step.

In his argument, Ford said there were sound reasons for price controls on rents and foods, but charged that restrictions in the automobile industry was forcing capital and labor to seek government aid in the settlement of their current disputes.

CONGRESS ON BATTLE LOOMS ON BRATTLE LOAN PROPOSAL

ing chairman of the senate banking committee for the hearings unless Sen. Wagner (D-N.Y.), chairman, who is ill in New York, returns in time.

Barkley tried unsuccessfully to introduce in the senate a resolution authorizing Treasury Secretary Fred M. Vinson to carry out the agreement. He was opposed by Sen. Langer (R-N.D.), who objected to the unanimous consent needed to have the bill filed while the filibuster continues.

Not Too Optimistic

In the house, Banking Committee Chairman Spence (D-Ky.), who introduced the approval resolution, was not too optimistic about its chances. He said:

"We will hold exhaustive hearings. Maybe sentiment for it will be stronger as time goes on."

Barkley was more confident. He said he knew there would be strong opposition, but predicted the senate will pass the bill.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), a key member of the senate banking committee, said he had not made up his mind. Sen. Tobey (R-N.H.), ranking minority member, said he expects to support it.

There will be at least one vigorous opponent in the committee. Sen. Butler (R-Neb.) said:

"I doubt if I can be induced to loan our money to foreign countries on terms other than we apply to our borrowers at home. We are asking our returning GIs to pay 4 and 5 per cent interest on loans to build homes."

BRITISH FORCES JOIN OCCUPATION OF JAPAN SHORTLY

of staff will be air commodore F. M. Bladin, CBE, of the Royal Australian air force.

Welcome By MacArthur

Commenting on British participation, MacArthur said:

"The present occupation forces in Japan extend the heartiest possible welcome to the British Commonwealth forces who are about to share with them the arduous and difficult duties which are involved."

Their presence will materially broaden the base along international lines of a burden which, up to this time, has of necessity, been carried to a large extent unilaterally by United States forces and cannot fail to be of overall beneficial effect.

It will enable a diminution of our own strength, and will bring welcome relief to many individuals."

A determination of the exact number of those to be released—presumably high score men—will depend on the composition and the numbers of the British expedition.

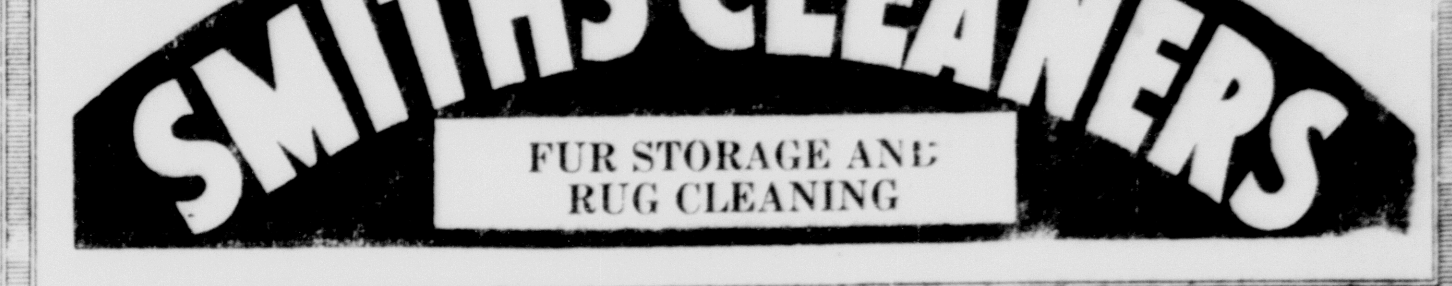

Base troops are to be drawn from each of the contributing countries. First contingents of the British occupying forces will arrive during the first week in February. The movement is to be completed late in March.

Residents Warned To Beware Of Fake Veterans Solicitors

Commander Leon A. Drumm, Of American Legion, Issues Warning This Morning

Following a report that several men, purporting to be veterans of the late war, were soliciting funds in a house to house canvass, Commander Leon A. Drumm, of the American Legion, issued a warning to residents to beware of fake veterans solicitors.

Anyone with a legitimate solicitation will be able to secure publicity on such a matter and that as far as he knew, no solicitation is being engaged in at the present time by any local veterans organization.

The same warning was also given by Acting Chief of Police Willis G. McMillen, who urges residents to report any such solicitations to the police immediately, and they will be investigated. If they do not have a legitimate reason for soliciting, they will be picked up.

will do a lion's share of spade work in bringing scores of other unions back to federation affiliation. Veterans' observers meanwhile were staunch in belief that whatever Lewis does to solidify the labor front will be done on his own terms.

One indication that he is doing business only on that scale appears in the left handling of the unions listed under Lewis' District 50.

The council has done nothing to tackle the tuckish jurisdictional problems involved, and, sub rosa, indicates are that District 50 will remain in status quo and untouched by AFL.

Bearing out further the consensus that Lewis even is heard within the council even if not yet without was a report from inside the closely guarded executive sessions. A man who overhears the proceeding daily said:

"Lewis hasn't changed. It's like he never left."

City Announces Delinquent Tax Must Be Settled

Men who were not in military service and who are employed must pay their delinquent taxes, according to a ruling in city hall today. A check by delinquent tax clerks showed that men in some industries owe a total of as much as $400 for 1944.

The delinquent tax office will send statements immediately to the industries which will be required to deduct the tax from pay envelopes unless it is paid.

If any men who were in military service have personal taxes charged against them the employer will so mark the record and he will not be required to pay for the time he was in service, it was stated.

Scenic and historic spots along Wyoming highways will be marked shortly by signs according to plans of the State Department of Commerce and Industry.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Strike Crisis Must Be Ended Quickly

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Various estimates have been made of the cost of the current wave of strikes. It is easy to put figures together showing the number of millions of dollars lost each day in wages and in the value of the goods that would have been produced.

But these estimates do not reflect the indirect losses. In a world desperately in need of goods of every sort, any halt in the flow of production is bound to have consequences beyond the borders of our own country.

Take for example, the meat-packing strike, which has now been ended by resort to the war powers still retained by the president. It was not merely that consumers were temporarily inconvenienced as the butcher shops were emptied of meats.

The farmers could not send their animals to market to be slaughtered, they kept them on the farm. That meant the animals had to be fed. This cuts into reserve supplies of grain and, in some degree at least, into reserve stocks of wheat. At the price which cattle have been bringing, it has been profitable to feed them wheat, although looking at it from the point of view of the greatest good for the greatest number of people in a hungry world, this is a wasteful process.

Threatens To Grow Worse

If there was a surplus of food in the world, it would not matter. But instead of a surplus, there is a deficit and it threatens to grow worse instead of better.

A threatened wheat shortage complicates the world food picture. In the spring of 1945, there was a severe drought in the surplus-wheat-producing areas of Europe. It was particularly acute in the Balkans and North Africa. A drought in Australia and New Zealand also drastically curtailed the wheat surplus normally exported from those countries.

Add to this the fact that rice production in the Far East has been seriously curtailed by the war and by the social upheaval following in the wake of the war. This has increased the demand for wheat as a substitute.

Use Grain For Fuel

In Argentina, throughout the war and even since the war, they have used grain for fuel because they could not get oil and coal. But now a trade agreement has begun to cut down on this source of waste.

Fortunately, in this country, we had a good wheat crop last year. The carry-over from 1945 is put at 689,000,000 bushels. But that represents a sharp drop from the carry-over of a year ago, which was 833,000,000 bushels.

This is a precious reserve which must not be wasted. It is a barrier against the worst ravages of hunger and disease in the devastated areas. It is part of America's strength in the world.

For the year beginning July 1, 1945, world requirements of wheat were estimated at considerably over a billion bushels. The United States could export up to 400,000,000 bushels if it were possible to get the freight cars and procure the wheat.

That is a big if. Reconversion is jamming the railroads. Luxury goods are coming back into the market, and they take space in scarce freight cars.

Never Sufficiently Aware

We, the department of agriculture, has never been a sufficient awareness of the need to use all possible means to make our food resources count. It may well be because policy-makers, from Secretary Clinton Anderson down, have never been convinced of the desperateness of the world's need for aid.

We in this country have been consuming food at an unparalleled rate. In November and December, consumption of meat was at an all-time high.

When you come to add up the sources of the world's requirement, Canada can supply 335,000,000 bushels, and Argentina and Australia together perhaps 100,000,000. That still leaves, however, a deficit of at least 165,000,000 bushels.

The loss of grain through the 10-days meat strike was, comparatively speaking, very small. But in a world in which gnawing hunger is widespread, and with it the disease that goes with malnutrition, we cannot afford even a small loss. A stable and strong America is needed today, more than ever before. The strike crisis must be ended—and quickly.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 5:32. Sun rises tomorrow 6:54.

Liner is what makes a drunkard's mouth water.

Lying always keeps a man down.

It is romantic to have a man's first love, but it is safer to be his last.

An old man came into the advertising department this morning with copy for a two inch ad which he hoped to obtain on credit.

Upon questioning him, the credit manager found that the prospective advertiser did not have an active account at any store so he asked for names of personal friends whose credit standing was known.

"Sorry, son," lamented the old man, "I have no friends . . . I used to be a newspaper editor."

Yesterday's tomorrow's smile; as plentiful as poor relations at a rich man's funeral.

The penalty for throwing mud is solid hands.

No man is a failure so long as he refuses to admit it.

DERISIVE DEFINITIONS

Agnostic—a person who remains away from all churches.

Church member—an individual and merely thinks up excuses to remain away from one church.

Drudgery—washing dishes for a man who loves her.

Love—an emotion that you think you cannot live without, then want a vacation from when you have found it.

Overheard on the bus: "She seemed like such a sensible girl."

"Yeah . . . she wouldn't pay any attention to me, either."

You can't tell by the size of a house how many people live in it.

Everybody in town knows your duties are better than you know yourself.

Most of us tell more lies when we talk about ourselves than when we talk about others.

Marriage at least does one important thing—it teaches us a lot of things we didn't know before.

Rez Heck says: "Science art I try and figure out a way for children to select their own parents."

When a man says he runs everything at his house it may be the washing machine and the furnace.

Many a man who is a big noise at the office is only a little squeak at home.

There is no justice. If you make your income tax out correctly you go to the poorhouse. If you don't you go to jail.

A merchant's problem is to keep stall out of installment.

Song of the open road (tattened to modern M. P. H.): Brighten the corner where you are.

The fool wonders . . . The wise man asks.

Overheard on the bus: "Life seems to be a habit of losing sleep over matters we will not be able to remember next year."

On the other hand, the trend of events is not as important as the events of the trend.

Modern scripture, painting and music show what's wrong. We're as screwy as people were when they hanged witches.

The measure of a politician is the number of people who delight in pointing out his past mistakes.

Slang isn't nice but you can't do justice to a water pipe in that state unless you say it is busted.

A real sottie is one who lets a guy steal from him rather than break up a long friendship.

Another way to get educated is to say: "Oh, just pay me whatever you think is right."

If she thinks she is doing a favor by giving him a date, she has a waste head or she is foolish to waste time on such an awful guy.

Humiliating Situation Is Confronting U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—NO REAL American wants a dictatorship for this country. We entered the last war, fought and won it largely to avert the threat of another and to preserve our own democratic form of government. Yet, the almost incredible incompetency with which our system operates makes it utterly ridiculous for us to urge its adoption upon other nations with other ideas.

WE DO NOT want to change, but certainly we should not boast about it. On the contrary, we should as a people feel profoundly mortified. For the spectacle of impotent confusion which we now present to the world is unparalleled in history and the extraordinary demonstration of our complete inability to manage our own affairs is the most impressive thing about us. Under such conditions our pretensions to world leadership become preposterous. We cannot run the world if we cannot run ourselves. The first qualification for world leadership is to put our own house in order.

THAT seems a strong indictment, but those who think it too strong might take a look at the house. Here we are the greatest of all the countries engaged in the war (and the one that suffered least) in a condition that must alarm every citizen. Our internal disorder is not far from chaos. Neither the judicial, the executive nor the legislative branch of our government is functioning satisfactorily and not one of the three is in harmony with another. The Supreme Court, split in two sharply separated factions is further handicapped by the inconsistent political propaganda that centers around one of its members. Justice Douglas and the justice absence of another—Justice Jackson—upon an assignment not remotely connected with the court.

THE Democratic President, unable to get even a small part of his large domestic program through a Democratic Congress and in the main surrounded by obviously inadequate men in the great industrial-labor struggle now going on has thrown his weight on the side of the union faction in which the subversive elements which seek to undermine our institutions are most influential—to wit, the CIO. In this he follows the example of his predecessor who formed a political alliance with the CIO and its PAC which the Truman political managers apparently are anxious to continue.

AND Congress, faced with a national crisis and a call for action, is unable to act. With important measures waiting consideration, a filibustering Senate minority has tied itself into a tight knot over the so-called Fair Employment Practices Act, originally sponsored by the Communists, now endorsed by both Republican and Democratic parties but really pressed by the CIO. That isn't all by any means. Badgered by the political demagogues, the army has been forced to demobilize at dangerous speed and is nearing the mark where its size will be inadequate to carry out our commitments abroad. At the same time Congress thus far has refused to tighten up or extend the draft, and so far, has sidetracked the universal military training bill recommended by the President and the army as the least we can do if we are not to descend from the mightiest power in the world to one of the feeblest in its passage, as has been pointed out again and again. Nor is that all. With a long period of great prosperity in prospect, provided our production can measurably meet the tremendous demand for our products, we appear deliberately intent upon killing the prospect.

MORE than a million men have been thrown into idleness by the great strikes in the steel and automobile fields. Others, such as the meat strike, have forced the government to seize plants to protect the food supply. In New York City the radical union leader, Michael Quill, compelled the Mayor of New York to surrender to his purely political demands to avoid what would have been a calamitous tieup in the transit system. Other strikes are bursting out all over the place and the Administrator has no labor policy worthy of the name and no restraining law on the books to protect the people's interests.

ADD to all this the fact that Federal finances are still out of control. We preach economy but practice extravagance. We call for a reduction in the swollen Federal pay roll and for a decrease in waste. Yet, as Senator Byrd points out, instead of reducing the civilian personnel since peace came, it has been increased. The pay roll instead of going down has gone up. The only big reduction has been in the army and navy and these were inevitable when the shooting stopped. With the national debt close to 300 billions we deliberately reduced taxes by more than seven billions and we are lending abroad billions and we do not really have. More could be put in the picture but this seems enough to make the point that our cherished system has bogged down pretty badly. There will be those to say that this is too black a picture, that things eventually will straighten out and as usual, we will pull through. And, of course, that is so. But the cost of the struggle will be terrific and the strain upon the system will leave it weakened. A few more crises like the one on us now and it will be unrecognizable and we will be worse off. The sad state we are now in represents the accumulation of years. How to save us is the great problem. If that cannot somehow be done, we shall steadily slide downward to the grand bust-up.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Here are excerpts from two letters that will interest you, not so much because of the subject matter, although that, too, is interesting, but mainly because they show what completely divergent views different people have about the same subject.

After you get through reading these you will see how difficult it is not only for a writer, but for everybody, to please all people.

If your column today you speak of your little dog's illness," says one of the letters. "A few months ago I lost my most precious possession, my little dog, Maudie, and on I want to tell you of my very understanding sympathy."

"When he gets ready to go, do take him out of the hospital and let him die in your home. The solace of your love and care will mean more to him than you will ever know. It is bad enough that he has to die—why let him die with a broken heart?"

Here is the other letter:

"Sometimes your column is worthwhile, but again sometimes it is just a waste of time."

"I disliked today's column very much. Did you ever know that a dog has no soul or heaven? Once it croaks there is no life of any kind. You seem to think more of your dog than you do of people who have a soul that lives after they die."

"Sometimes I wonder what that bound of yours looks like because you seem to love him so much. I think it's very foolish of you to think so much of a dumb animal."

The writer of this letter is a nineteen-year-old girl who signs herself:

"A girl from the coal region."

I had intended to write to the young lady, but, like so many letters that are mean and nasty, it is anonymous. That, in itself, shows the character of the person who wrote it.

I don't mind letters of criticism—as a matter of fact, all of us writers welcome them because they save us from becoming conceited.

But anonymity is cowardice, and cowardice explains the letter "less air from the coal region" and all the other letters that are so full of bile to begrudge anyone his love for a dog?

How can anyone fail to see the wonderful love for the selfless affection, the heartwarming devotion a dog gives to his people?

Whoever told this young woman that there is no hereafter for dogs, that they have no soul, then "when they croak there is no life of any kind?"

My little Deuce is going to die soon. We will miss him terribly and our home will never be quite the same again.

But I firmly believe, and so does my wife, that some day that day which will last forever, Deuce will be there to greet us and not only Deuce, but Bonnie, his mother, and Mickey and Skipper, four little fellows because of whom our lives have been more pleasant, and who, I know, will be waiting for us.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILD'S PLAYMATES

Of the playmates of her daughter five a mother, after moving to a new neighborhood, writes: "We have cooperation when they play in our yard for as each problem arose, we made laws concerning it. First it was stone throwing. My husband showed them how to throw stones at a target. He told them as soon as we got our settling down he would take them for a hike in the woods nearby for a picnic if they would learn to play without hurting each other."

Next I found them throwing sand out of the box, at the one that happened to be swinging. I told them definitely that the sand was to stay in the box. I proved to them that I wasn't an old witch by asking one of the girls to bake a cookie for me. She put sand in a dish and I said it looked like a nice cookie and I would take it into the house and bake it.

Reunions Later

"I returned later with a plate of real cookies for them telling them that the fairies baked them. They, of course, knew it was a game of pretend."

The next day turned out to be quite troublesome. First I had to put my foot down on their carrying things off the premises without my permission. Next a little fellow cocked one of the girls. When I finally got them to understand that we played nicely at our place, or else the offender had to go home for the rest of the day, a little boy asked me if Gnomes would bake some more cookies.

"I replied: 'On days that little children are naughty at their play they scare the fairies, elves and gnomes away, and so there just aren't any cookies.'"

Play Nicely

"These little tykes are cunning and surely have learned to play nicely at our place because they know there is a reward. There are about ten of them in the back yard most of the time. I know we have (Continued on Next Page)

Words Of Wisdom

No quarrel ought ever to be converted into a policy.

—Lloyd George.

People, Ships And Fish

In addition to the larger aspects, military and scientific, of the United States atomic bomb experiments in mid-Pacific, will be matters involving personality and sentimentality.

In the first place, what is to be the fate of the peacetime natives of the Marshall Islands, where the man-made earthquake is to be loosed? The 161 living on Bikini atoll, whose spacious lagoon is to accommodate the guinea pig fleet, will be evacuated permanently. Inhabitants of other islands, as far as 200 miles away, are to be removed temporarily. Fish and wild life of the whole area face utter destruction, but they are described by the United States Fish and Wild Life Service as only "of local importance."

Are animals to be placed on the target vessels to determine the bomb's effect on "crews"? No decision has been made. But in the past when the armed services proposed using goats as "goats" to test their new weapons, a loud outcry arose from human societies. Congressmen are to be invited to the tests. Their acceptance, no doubt, will be in direct ratio to the distance of their seats from the scene of action.

Nobody cares about how many Jap or German warships are destroyed, but there will be regret that some of Uncle Sam's famous old men-of-war also are earmarked for possible disintegration. But their final sacrifice, if it is really to be, will be in the service of their country. The Navy needs them now to determine the effect of the atomic bomb on future ship design and on the whole concept of warfare.

Better to carry on to a glorious end in the tradition of the Navy than to rot and rust for years in the mudbanks where proud ships die.

Old Man Habit

Along about this time of year that cracking sound one hears is not the world splitting apart at the seams. It is merely New Year's resolutions breaking under the relentless pressure of habit.

It wasn't very long ago that a great many persons, their eyes shining with high purpose, resolved they would mend their ways. Each of us takes a mental accounting of himself occasionally and often is dismayed, as well as amazed, at the results. Too many important things remain undone that should be done, too much time is wasted in trivialities, too many dollars and too much vitality are frittered away in self-indulgence in minor vices.

The end of the year is the logical time to desert the old methods, with a clean, unswayed pace of life opening ahead. So, spurred on by our better selves and perhaps by some urging from the little woman, we set down either on paper or by mental notes a list of things we ought not and will not do. It's definite now. We've made an oath to ourselves and we feel the better for it.

This joyous feeling of having done a worthwhile thing buoy up the morale immensely. For a time the maker of New Year's resolutions lives in an atmosphere of such high self esteem that it approaches smugness. But one day habit's sly causes the forbidden cigarette to be lighted, or lifts the hand containing the highball. Then habit soothes the hurt conscience by saying that it was only the first offense and can be excused.

Deep in our hearts we know better. The resolution has been broken and that's that. Our broken one, it will be broken twice and again and again. So there is little left to do but wait until New Year's Day, 1947, and start again.

But there is a great deal of comfort to be found in this annual procedure. It is that humanity still has the ability to realize it is enmeshed in its own frailties. And even if its attempts to break away are short-lived, it deserves E for Effort.

Beware Of Fire Perils

Numerous tragic fires, particularly in apartment and tenement houses, in various parts of the country through the last week-end forcibly call attention to the need for greater watchfulness on the part of communities, apartment managers and house dwellers to halt this already disastrous fire wave.

It is the long experience of experts, backed by voluminous data, that most fires are preventable. They are frequently caused by carelessness or by their own inattention.

Greater care at all points is essential. Equally necessary is better oversight in apartment buildings and tenements, especially those of older types. The toll of death and injury in the current series of fires has become so large that it cannot be ignored.

Certainly this problem can't be left to work itself out. Common sense and the instinct of self-preservation should spur everyone to the utmost precautions against this peril.

Longfellow's Arab, who simply folded up his tent every time he moved, had one solution for the housing problem.

Some Congressmen seemed convinced that when and if the budget is balanced it will be just an ordinary budget, with an extraordinary budget running around loose.

Contacting the moon by radar, scientists got nothing more than an echo in return. Perhaps the folk up there have a definite policy of not talking about the neighbors.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed By International News Service)

A stratosphere expert says we should establish atom bomb bases on the moon immediately. Even now, he is afraid that when we step off his rocket a voice will say "Welcome Tovarich."

Moon rockets sound fantastic but so did automobiles—until Ford and Chrysler signed.

There has been no response to our signal to Mars—either they didn't get it or the Terrestrial Telegraphers Association is out.

The radar demonstrations are being conducted near the spot where the experiment in tapping Doris Duke Cromwell for fourteen million tobacco leaves was tried.

The supreme court ruled that Mrs. Cromwell was not entitled to more than the average taxpayers' roofing.

The poor girl has less money than most people know exactly what to do with.

Anyhow—if the first rocket is launched from New Jersey there are many who will insist that Frank Hague should be first passenger.

Police Get Ride For Aged Hiker Dragging Trailer To Florida

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 31.—(INS)—Aged Francisco Vignetta was "off the hoof" and en route to Florida in style.

The home-made trailer which Vignetta, 72, hauled all the way from New York was packed aboard a southbound truck. And Francisco sat comfortably in the cab with the driver.

He was trudging along the highway, hauling his trailer which contains all his worldly goods, when Delaware police persuaded him the trailer was a traffic hazard.

They stopped the truck driven by Jack Parker of Plant City, Fla., and induced him to give the aged hiker a lift to the southland.

Francisco began his long trek to Florida after pulling up in Media Pa., December 11 because of inclement weather. He had been two months reaching Media from New York.

He had covered 50 miles on foot dragging his trailer, when police obtained the hitch for him to Florida.

To House 2381 College Students

HARRISBURG, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Accommodations for 2381 students in mid-year classes of 57 Pennsylvania colleges were reported today by Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Haas.

Due to crowding caused by an influx of veterans, resident facilities were available for only half that number. Haas said in the first of a series of reports on educational opportunities in Pennsylvania.

The completed pool of college facilities was expected to indicate 5439 openings next fall, he added.

Reports will be published periodically to "point out enrollment opportunities to returned veterans and high school graduates contemplating college educations," Haas stated.

The State Police Say:

It is not enough merely to look ahead while driving, you must think ahead. Always try to anticipate what the driver ahead of you or the driver approaching from the opposite direction may do. Be alert for the approaching driver cutting across your line of traffic to make a left turn into an intersecting street or gasoline station.

SUGGESTS WAYS TO AVOID SLUMP IN EGG PRODUCTION

Various factors may be responsible for sudden drops in egg production. Sudden changes in weather, lack of vitamins in the feed, parasites or disease disturbances, improper housing, and faulty management are most common causes of production slumps.

Chickens can adjust themselves to a wide range of temperature, but sudden changes have an effect on egg production. Extremely cold weather has a tendency to reduce feed and water consumption, so if feed consumption is kept up to normal, slumps may be avoided or modified. Extra grain several times a day, use of pellets, and feeding wet mash helps keep up feed consumption.

Insufficient amounts of vitamins A, D and G in the feed often increases disease hazards as well as affecting layer.

Vitamin A can be supplied by alfalfa meals, greens, or fish oils.

Vitamin D deficiencies are indicated by poor egg shell texture and lack of thrust and appetite. Unfertilized light and fish oils are principal sources of vitamin D. The "sunshine" vitamin, Vitamin G, which affects production, can be supplied with 4 or 5 per cent dried milk products in the mash or a gallon of liquid milk per day for each 100 layers.

Irregular feeding and lack of constant supply of drinking water are management factors that cause slumps. Keeping a regular routine on use of artificial lights, feeding, and avoiding sudden changes in rations all help to avoid winter slumps in production. One of the quickest ways to curtail egg production is to take water away from a heavy laying flock for a day, or let the water freeze.

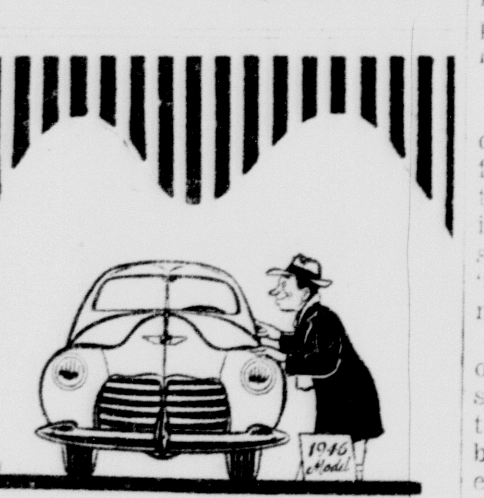

Hints On Etiquette

Teach your children from the start to share their toys with others, and they will grow up better mannered and less selfish.

PIN-WORMS LICKED AT LAST!

People don't talk about Pin-Worms—but more than you'd expect have this ugly infection with its embarrassing rectal itch. However, it is no longer necessary to suffer. Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug, a real treatment has been established. This drug is the vital ingredient in P.W., the small, "easy-to-take" Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. J. Davis & Son. They act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

So watch out for warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself. Don't delay. Ask your Druggist for JAYNE'S P.W. and follow the directions. It's easy to remember: P.W. for Pin-Worms!

THE PARENT PROBLEM

sort of bribed them, but I'm hoping it will soon become a habit and they will play nicely without thinking of the reward."

It seems to me these parents are achieving nobly. Preceding the foregoing, this mother also wrote: "Lately my daughter, five, comes running and crying to me that some of her playmates have hit her or knocked her down. I have told her several times that if they hit her first she hit back and teach them not to pick on her. She comes back with: 'But Mommy, I don't like to hurt my little friends.'"

"Again today some one hit her and I tried my best to explain that if she stood up for herself a few times, they wouldn't be starting fights. This was her reply. Now, mother, all these things you have been telling me—well—something in my mind tells me that you are teaching me bad." I dropped the subject by telling her that if she knew a better way to make them play without hitting her she had my permission to try it.

Mother's Patience
I liked this patient mother's way of talking to her child on self-defense. Perhaps some Sunday school teacher had led this child to her impractical notion. It should be observed that when Jesus talked of "turning the other cheek," He was not talking to young children.

Why try to put philosophic heads of adults on the shoulders of youngsters? The young child who can take good care of his one cheek is better able to turn the other and escape needless fears and the temptation to become a bully.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends each wood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. LISPING

When a little child lisps, it seems kind of cute. It doesn't seem to amount to much.

When a man or woman lisps it is sometimes embarrassing. Sometimes lisping spoils a man's chances for getting a good job.

Perhaps it would be better to try to correct or prevent the lisping habit in early childhood.

Maybe sister or mother or brother can do a better job at home than teachers later at school.

It is hard enough to get along in this little old world without being burdened by a speech defect.

Some of us talk too much anyhow.

Slides Made By Croton Art Class

Sixth Grade art students of the Croton Avenue elementary school are very active these days.

Stopping off at the second floor art room of Mrs. Morfydd Brown, in making his rounds, Wednesday afternoon, a surprised reporter was shown some of the work that the students are busily engaged in during the winter months.

One of the projects being carried out by the aggressive students, is the making of celoname slide pictures of varied subjects, to be shown later with the aid of a projector, to groups in the school.

Each pupil in the art class has selected his or her own subject, such as nature, animal realm or geographical and when the picture is portrayed on the screen, he or she will explain the subject depicted.

Another worthwhile venture that has been undertaken, at the suggestion of Mrs. Ruth Lewis, teacher at the Croton School, is the construction of unique and substantial bird houses by members of the art group. The houses will be displayed on Friday and judges will select the best made and neatest house of the group.

Gaston Park Groundhog Comes Out For Preview

During the last moderate weather, a short time ago, Owen Fox, city forester, while at Gaston Park, observed a groundhog, an inhabitant of the park for about four years, come from its den about nine in the morning, a little ahead of the traditional day. The sun was shining, it played on a knoll near its abode, did a little scouting around, its shadow not seeming to bother it any.

After being out about ten minutes, the animal gathered a mouthful of leaves, and took the collection to its den. In about fifteen minutes the animal made another appearance, waddled over to a sassafras tree, where it decided to eat a meal, then returned to sleeping quarters.

While the snoozer was out, Mr. Fox noticed it did not seem to be in the pink of condition; its body appeared somewhat gaunt, and its coat of a white grayish color, as if it had come out of a flour barrel. The animal's head looked somewhat bald, as if the hair had been ground off while burrowing; its tail was almost bare of hair.

Bringing Families To Europe Fails To Enthuse Soldiers

By HOWARD BERRY
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Jan. 31.—American occupation troops on duty in Germany and on furlough in England agreed today that there was little to be said in favor of the army policy of bringing their families to Europe this spring.

At U. S. headquarters in Frankfurt the GIs gripped because the regulations concerned only the non-commissioned officers of the first three grades (staff sergeant and up).

Low point GIs in Germany gripped an International News Service survey showed, because officers, "who never had it so good" could enjoy normal home lives while they could not.

Sgt. Elmer Immel, of Amarillo, Texas, said:

"I had thought to bring the missus over but I've decided against it."

"For too many of the boys it's impossible, and it will certainly cause hard feelings."

American troops on furlough in Britain were well high unanimous in disapproving the plan. The consensus was:

"It is okay for the guys that want it, but cold, starving, rotting Europe is no place for my family."

Truckers Demand Safety Program

HARRISBURG, Jan. 31.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Motor Truck association today called upon the general assembly to establish an effective highway safety program.

The executive committee urged "the prevention of highway accidents be given equal weight with enforcement of existing laws."

The appropriation of "an adequate sum of money" to finance the program was requested.

Copies of the resolution were sent to Gov. Edward Martin, state police commissioner, C. M. Williams, secretary of revenue, David W. Harris, members of the legislature, and the Public Utility commission.

Convince Pickets Lines Withdrawn

WILKINSBURG, Pa. Jan. 31.—(INS)—The United Electrical Workers Union today withdrew their picket lines from around Wilkesburg's old postoffice.

The pickets had kept a three-day vigil around the building because they believed Roy Z. Hershey was turning out blue prints for the Westinghouse Electric Company.

Hershey, owner of the Pitt Chocolate Company, moved into the old postoffice building, with his equipment and union members thought they were machines that turned out prints.

The owner finally convinced the pickets it was only a candy vending machine by dropping picks in it and producing a variety of chocolates.

PICKETS ARRESTED

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Fifteen pickets at the Yale and Towne Manufacturing company's Philadelphia plant were arrested today on charges of using abusive language toward non-striking workers.

One woman was among those taken into custody.

Approximately 1700 AFL-International Association of Machinists members have been on strike at the firm for 13 weeks. The non-striking employees are non-production workers.

GYPSY WOMEN FLED

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Three gypsy women, who tried to "cure" Carlo Enagureto, 65, of his troubles by crushing a live chicken to death on his chest, today had troubles themselves.

Magistrate W. H. McDermid fined each $25 on a charge of fortune telling. He dismissed a charge of larceny by trick when told the gypsies had returned Enagureto the $151 he had paid them.

The gypsies also agreed to leave town.

Dancing Masters' Head Foresees New Dance Coming Soon

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Quick! Pass the pitch to the cats, Kit. Tell 'em to pick up the beat with a bustle and hit it hot and high in a hurry.

Hubba, hubba, the longhairs are getting outa line. They're putting the smooz on swing and giving the bugs the downbeat.

Hit it, cat, hit it! Press that middle valve down. Tremble the night with your talking drumsticks while the dancers hop in a hot-blooded blur. Make with the jive, kids, jive.

For unless you prove that jitterbugging is sharp enough to stay, it's gonna be waltz me around again, Willie!

And now, if you'll save the last one for me, m'am, well sit this one out and talk this thing over.

Down from New York to the nation's capital the other day came Franklin Masters—president of the Dancing Masters of America, no less.

Hepcats Outmoded

And, like almost all others who wend their way to Washington, he brought a message.

Hepcats, he said, are outmoded in the postwar dancing world.

Across the country, quoth Oakie, trippers of the light fantastic are ceasing to feel their oats every time the clarinet calls or the saxophone starts screaming.

With the war over and war nerves on the decline, people are taking to the polished floor with the slow, romantic rhythms of bygone years.

In fact, opened Franklin, jitterbugging already is strikingly obsolete—the jitter with adolescents.

"The jitterbug interest is waning, except among the very young bobby-soxers," he said. "Now that the tension of war is over, people seem to want to go back to something romantic, and slow—especially slow."

Meaning to attend a regional meeting of the dancing masters, which discussed new dancing techniques and variations (out ignored jitterbugging when in session), Oakie also pointed out that the tamer trend is affecting other types of dances.

He's predicted that the tango rhythm soon will become a favorite on postwar floors, coast to coast.

And the rumba—which he termed already the most popular of the new dances—"will be done with 'less swirling-around' to meet the tastes of those dancers for whom life is already dizzy enough."

Naturally, some of the local bobby-soxers pooh-poohed the master's predictions, saying that dancing schools and teachers never did do much for jitterbugs, anyway.

"We taught ourselves," one said, and the others nodded smugly. And even some dancing masters gave grudging assent to that.

Questioned at length, Oakie admitted that jitterbugging would never completely die out until a new dance was evolved to fit in with swing music.

New Dance Coming

He said the new dance will come from the public itself—"because it is the people who really make all the dances, and dancing masters merely teach what the public is doing."

He made no prediction as to what the new one might be like, except that it would be in tune with the times. That was what developed the jitterbug, he said. It offered wild release for prewar and wartime nervous tension.

With which thought the bobby-soxer perked up.

"After all," bubbled a jitterbug-brightly, "when you realize what we did with the war nerves, can't you just imagine what kind of a dance we can develop out of the atomic jitter and this new moon madness?"

Yes, I can—but I'd rather not. Just draw the curtain gently, cats, and let me dream . . . in waltz time.

WASHINGTON REPORT

room the builder of dams, ships, roads and now automobiles relies for a true answer to his uncertainties.

"The one person in the whole world from whom a man has got to hear the truth is his wife," Henry Kaiser told someone. "And, by heaven, I get it from mamma."

It is not too easy to get the truth from anyone. Not even you, even sure it is the unadorned truth you really want to hear. Perhaps this is why there are so many of the "in-the-middle-of-the-road" kind of opinions. The "on-the-other-hand" oracles, who sound magnificent, leave the listener as he was, before he began to hope for a straight fact.

In Washington at any season, and in the congressional districts at campaign time, the "on-the-other-hand" boys and girls flourish on speakers' platforms and soap boxes. Senator Eugene Millikin (R) of Colorado and Justice Bennett Clark were laughing over the impossibility of hearing a straight opinion.

Clark Spoke Freely

Justice Clark, who was a sharp-hitting senator from Missouri before he went on the court, "loved as how" he spoke freely, even in his judicial role.

Senator Millikin had an idea that was right. Anyhow, Bennett, he said, "I know you're not like a judge out in Colorado where I come from. This fellow gave learned opinions first this way and that. He'd say in magnificent, convincing syllables that such was the case. Then, when he had his listeners believing that he had spoken the last word, he'd cock his head and say, 'Now, my friends on the other hand . . .'"

"His on-the-other-hand remarks were just as compelling as his first pronouncements. After years of listening to such judicial decisions, one citizen of the state threatened to propose an amendment to the state constitution asking that only one-armed men be appointed to the Colorado bench."

Foolish ideas—take them as you will. Why not convert this idle, unneeded ship the government is preparing to scrap into living quarters to relieve the housing shortage? Germany converted the liner Europa into apartments for some of her homeless citizens.

It is possible that those protests of homesick and disgusted (his words) inspired by the lax behavior of a few top generals.

The popping in popcorn is an explosion due to the expansion under pressure of moisture in the starch grains. Until the instant of the explosion the expansion is prevented by the material in which the starch grains are embedded. Neither air nor volatile oil, as was once thought, is concerned with the process. The wall of the kernel of popcorn is harder than that of ordinary field corn, and this causes the entire kernel to explode when heated, throwing out the white interior.

Backache, leg pains may be danger sign of tired kidneys.

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 16 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matters build up in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions, or over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

CHECK BURGLARS SENTENCED

Three to six years each in western Penitentiary was handed out to Joseph Miller and David Stern, both of New York City, Wednesday by Judge W. Walter Brasham, for the burglary of the Casert Wire plant in Elwood City some weeks ago.

Both pleaded guilty.

The men were caught red handed in the company vault where they had taken the check writer of the company and had made out checks totaling some $140,000. Adam Simpson, night watchman, caught them, and although they got out of the building they were apprehended by the Elwood City police.

Two New York detectives, Glenn Murphy and Louis Schwartz, were in court and said both men had records in New York state for criminal offenses. Stern has a year in do in the Philadelphia county jail for violation of his parole.

They were fined $100 and each additionally on two charges, the other one being attempt to commit a forgery. Stern was also fined and sentenced on a larceny charge. Each charge carried the same preliminary term, to run concurrently.

The annual consumption of milk in all forms, including butter and cheese, ranges from about one gallon for the average person in Japan to 80 in the United States, Belgium and Germany, and 144 in Finland.

PAUL S. GRAY
EVANGELIST
SERMON
By What Are We Saved?
There is much confusion in the religious world as to the essentials in salvation. One claims salvation by grace, another by faith, another by the blood of Christ, and still another by baptism. This confusion is caused by taking one passage of scripture and ignoring all other related scriptures. We can never know what to do to save our souls except we take all of God's word rightly divided and correctly applied. The Bible teaches salvation by MERCY, Tit. 3:5; by grace, Eph. 2:8; by the gospel, 1 Cor. 15:3; by faith, Rom. 5:1; by confession, Rom. 10:9-10; by obedience from the heart to a form of doctrine, Rom. 6:17-18; by the blood of Christ, 1 Jno. 1:7; by baptism, Acts 2:38, Acts 22:16, 1 Pet. 3:21, and by works, Jas. 2:24.
Are these contradictory statements? Is one person saved by one thing and one by something else? Or does it take all these things in order to obtain salvation and not ONE ONLY. If the Bible is true it takes THEM ALL.
Because of God's MERCY or HIS GRACE he gave us the GOSPEL which we must BELIEVE that we may CONFESS CHRIST and OBEY FROM THE HEART the form of the death, burial and resurrection of Christ by being BAPTIZED into HIS blood (Rom. 6:3-5) where we contact HIS BLOOD which takes away sin that we might be workers in His Kingdom.

Marriages, Divorces Soar With Cleveland Papers Mum

CLEVELAND, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Cleveland's prolonged newspaper strike as turned Ohio's biggest city into a combination Gretna Green and Reno.

Marriage and divorce applications in the Cuyahoga County courthouse have skyrocketed since the major daily papers suspended publication Jan. 5.

Courthouse attaches decline to blame the sharp increase in the foregoing categories to the lack of newspapers, but to many persons the strike has been the answer to an oft-repeated question, "can we keep it out of the newspapers?"

The temporary answer is "yes" because vital statistics are the everyday must for the Plain Dealer, News and Press. The births, marriages, deaths and divorces probably still will get into print when the papers publish again, but by that time the news edge will be taken off most of them.

No Death Notices
 Although it is a convenience for prospective brides and grooms and divorces, the last of a publishing medium has been very inconvenient for the families and friends of the dearly departed.

Even the Cleveland florists feel the pinch because many persons are interested before friends and out about their demise.

 But the figures on marriages and divorces are intriguing. Up to Jan. 28, there were 1313 marriage licenses in file for the month. The closest number to that last year was 1,222 in November.

The number of divorce actions filed so far this month is almost double that for the same period last year. The figure is 858 compared with 454 in January 1945.

These are not the only repercussions from the last of daily newspapers in Cleveland. Business has been dropping off in stores because of the lack of a true and tried advertising medium.

Radio stations have increased their International and local news coverage and some of the smaller dailies and the weeklies have been including local items.

Circulation Up
 In fact, the Cleveland Citizen, the official AFL paper in Cleveland, has upped its circulation by 100 thousand copies during the last several weeks. The normal circulation is 52,000. Newsboys are making an average of $8.50 an hour hawking the eight-page union sheet, according to the publishers.

The only catch is that the Citizen is afraid it may have to suspend publication in a week or two because it has used up its newsprint quota.
 Out-of-town papers sell out as soon as they hit the news stands, but through a gentlemen's agreement there has been no increase in the supply. So Buffalo and Pittsburgh are not cashing in.
 One of the Cleveland restaurant chains is issuing a daily mimeograph page highlighting the city's news.

GIRL SCOUTS

Senior Service Troop 27

Senior Service Girl Scouts of Troop 27 met in the home of Marjorie Edgar of Sheridan avenue for their last meeting, with an unusually entertaining program.

Mrs. H. W. French, a member of the Girl Scout Council, displayed her collection of colorful handmade crepe paper dolls, representing familiar characters. The collection which is Mrs. French's hobby, is unique and beautiful, showing a high degree of ability for creative art.

Other guests at the meeting were Miss Nancy McKee and Miss Ann Atherton, a new resident of New Castle who has volunteered to assist the senior service troop with their activities. Miss Atherton is a Wilson college graduate and at present is doing chemistry work for the American Cyanamid and Chemical corporation.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening by the hostess's mother, Mrs. John A. Edgar. Mrs. Edgar, formerly chairman of Public Relations for the Girl Scout Council and now a member of the Organization committee of Council, has been aiding the senior girls in the capacity of troop committee member.

Although leaderless for a long period of time, the girls of the troop—all high school students—have been carrying on their program of community service. They do typing at the state clinic in the City Hall, assisted with the Sister Kootie Polo Fund drive, and have worked at the Jameson hospital.

Troop 3

Troop Three met Wednesday evening at the First Christian church at which time four prospective members were made welcome by the girls. Following the flag ceremony, the leader, Laura Sluiter, presented the troop with an advanced chart which will record each girl's progress in Scouting. The chart, along with other items of interest brought in by the girls, was placed upon the new bulletin board. After patrol corners when the patrols chose appropriate names for each patrol badge activities were enjoyed, the leader being assisted by Mildred Miller and Gloria Sleight. Plans were made for the Valentine Party to be held in two weeks at the church with the girls working on First Class Badges in charge. A kit was presented by several girls directed by Barbara Wagner. A Court of Honor was held immediately after the meeting when future plans were discussed.

Senior Troop 22

Senior Girl Scout troop 22 met Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Betty Jane Nelson. Donna Sheehy was elected scribe during the business meeting, after which the evening was spent in playing new games and singing songs. Refreshments were later served by the hostess to the group.

Two portions of a chain of mountains in Kentucky are connected by National Bridge in Wolfe county. The bridge spans a chasm 60 feet wide and 40 feet high.

County May Have To Name Attorney To Defend Herge

For some reason, Irvin C. Herge, Ellwood City man who has confessed to the slaying of Jean Fatur on October 17, 1945, has not yet secured an attorney. Herge is in the county jail and has had several conferences with an attorney and one with a brother but as yet he is not represented by counsel.

In the event that he comes to trial without an attorney, it will be necessary for the court to appoint counsel for him and the fees will be paid from tax moneys.

From Toledo, O., word was received today that the body of the late Jean Fatur, 20, would be shipped in a sealed casket to a brother in Alquippa for burial. Sheriff Fred Barlett said.

BROWNSVILLE—Even the patrons of a local restaurant when thieves robbed the place after closing hours add made off with two cases of whiskey, 11 hams and 15 pounds of butter.

Erie Sailor Wounds Civilian And Then Takes His Own Life

Seaman Raymond Sczymanski Is Found Dead In Alley After Mystery Shooting

PORT ANGELES, Wash., Jan. 31.—(INS)—Port Angeles police Wednesday sought a motive for a mysterious shooting affray in which a sailor shot an unknown civilian and then was fatally wounded by the same gun.

The sailor, Seaman First Class Raymond Sczymanski, about 19, of Erie, Pa., was found shot in the abdomen in a Port Angeles alley last Sunday. He died the following day in a navy hospital without recovering consciousness.

Police Chief R. O. Ide said Sczymanski apparently had stolen a .45 calibre revolver from the Las Vegas Victory, cargo ship to which he was attached. The ship was anchored in Discovery Bay in Port Angeles.

Ide asserted that after attending a dance, the youth approached a car parked on a downtown street and occupied by two couples.

Turns Gun on Self
Witnesses said he ordered one of the persons, Lyle Bena, out of the car and then shot Bena in the leg as he was walking across the street.

Sczymanski turned and fled down an alley where his body was found later.

Ide declared an investigation did not show whether the sailor shot himself accidentally or on purpose, but he was wounded by the same gun which was stolen from the ship.

Sczymanski was taken to a Port Angeles hospital and then removed to a navy hospital where he died. Bena was reported recovering.

The sailor was the son of Boleslaw Sczymanski of 523 East Seventh street, Erie, Pa.

The presentation was made on the anniversary of the late President's birth by Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan. Members of the Cabinet and members of the Roosevelt Memorial committee were present.

In receiving the first sheet of commemorative stamps in the new five-cent series, the President remarked that the "four freedoms" which Franklin D. Roosevelt championed are the goals toward which the whole world is striving, both through the United Nations' organization meeting now in London, and through our own efforts at home.

$100,000 Blaze In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Damage was estimated at more than $100,000 today after a seven-alarm fire roared through a five-story building in central Philadelphia.

Firemen and more than one-third of the city's fire-fighting equipment battled the stubborn flames for more than two hours before the blaze was brought under control.

The fire was discovered by an employee of a luggage company housed in the building. The fire started in an elevator shaft and spiraled upward, engulfing all the floors.

Five employees in the building were able to escape entrapment by flames and smoke. More than 150 policemen patrolled the area, rerouting traffic.

Washability Expert At Strauss' Store

Miss Elizabeth Fell Gives Advice On Washing Colorful Accessories Now In Style

"Rainbow colors make this year's accessories brilliant fashion accents, while dress-type fabrics lift the new blouses to the rank of major costume features," says Miss Elizabeth Fell, washability expert from the Lux Laboratories visiting at Strauss-Hirschberg's store this week.

"Bow necks are this year's classic, and the 'peekaboo' is also back," Miss Fell points out. "With these blouses, its smart to wear either fabric or leather gloves—elbow-length brushed rayon ones with cap-sleeved blouses, or classic leather slip-ons with suits."

Pieskin On Hands
"Pieskin and capeskin gloves may be washed on the hands, just as if you were washing your hands with cool Lux suds. Doeskin, chamois, and fabric gloves should be washed off the hands," the washability expert advises. "Washable leathers come out soft and supple if you 'finger-press' them by working the leather between your thumb and forefinger while it's still partly damp."

And the candy-bright sweaters, continues Miss Fell, should be rolled in a turkish towel to absorb the excess moisture.

Pin It Down
"After the final rinse, remove the sweater from the towel immediately and pin it to the outline of the sweater which you have previously drawn on paper. Dry the sweater flat so that it will keep its shape."

For those who would like to brush up on modern washing techniques, Miss Fell is available for consultation at Strauss-Hirschberg's store this week. She is also giving away a "Make It Last" chart that lists concise Luxing, rinsing, and ironing directions for all washables.

Sunday School Conference In Session Today

The conference-rally of the County Sunday School association started with opening devotions at 2:30 this afternoon at the First Presbyterian church of this city. Rev. Norman G. Webster, Director of Young People's work of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association, will speak at this afternoon's session and also have charge of an "Information Please" open forum and discussion period. There will also be pictures as well as views of the State association camp, "Kanesatake."

Quite a large number have made reservation for the conference-rally chicken dinner being served by the ladies of the church at 6:15 p. m.

The evening session starts at 7:30 with opening devotions and song service in charge of Rev. O. W. Hurst, assisted by young people. Special music will be furnished by the church organist, Mrs. Sophia Dunlap, and the church chorister, David W. Rees, will sing two solos.

Mrs. Margaret S. Cassidy will give a report of the activities of the Young People of Slippery Rock district, and there will be brief reports of departmental superintendents who were unable to be present at the afternoon session.

The inspirational message of the evening will be given by Rev. Webster, and after "recognitions" have been made for attendance, etc. there will be a closing "Friendship Circle."

Union Shuffle Would Add Power

HARRISBURG, Jan. 31.—(INS)—President James L. McDevitt of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor (AFL) said today that a reaffiliation of Pennsylvania's United Mine Workers locals would "tremendously strengthen" his organization.

The UMW locals could be reinstated without necessitating any change to the PFL by-laws, he said, but refused to discuss the union's membership on the executive board. The UMW had three representatives on the board at the time of their severance with the PFL 10 years ago, he added.

McDevitt explained the PFL's "official family" was composed of a chairman, secretary-treasurer, three auditors and 13 vice-presidents.

Improvement Plan Is Gaining Impetus

HARRISBURG, Jan. 31.—(INS)—The postwar planning commission today had completed a third of its task allocating $1,000,000 to aid communities plan improvement projects. Officials said $349,356.67 had been granted to help finance blueprinting of 66 proposed projects ranging from street improvements to erection of municipal buildings. Ten of the projects were being planned by Philadelphia county and city officials, they added.

The commission expects to report even greater progress after its next meeting February 14, a spokesman said.

They read - They came - -

They came back for more!

Behind the Amoco name is a 35-year story . . . the story of America's first special motor fuel . . . distinctively different . . . in a class by itself. So when the word went out that GENUINE AMOCO was back, the rush to the pumps was on! For millions of motorists the return of Amoco-Gas stopped all arguments about motor fuels.

If you are confused by the gasoline ads these days, remember: It's not what's in the ads, it's what's in the tanks that counts! Fill up with Amoco-Gas just once. Quicker than it takes to tell you about it, your car will tell you why the crowds turned out when they heard the word: "GENUINE AMOCO IS BACK!"

Executive Committee Of State G.O.P. Urges Governor To Become Senate Candidate

HARRISBURG, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Republican strategy for the 1946 election campaign was outlined Wednesday when the 23-member Executive committee of the GOP organization met at Harrisburg.

The committee went into secret session with State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor shortly after noon. Taylor said he would spur plans to expand the move to draft Gov. Edward Martin for the U. S. Senate race and claimed "at least 50 counties" were pledged to support the chief executive.

Petitions urging the governor to enter the contest had not been received from leaders in Allegheny or Delaware counties, Taylor reported. He indicated Allegheny GOP chiefs would get on the Martin-for-Senate bandwagon.

To Draft Martin
After the committee concluded its session, members were slated to present Governor Martin with the draft petitions.

The committee is composed of Taylor, Mrs. Edna Carroll of Philadelphia, vice-chairman; secretary of welfare S. M. R. O'Hara of Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. Worthington Scranton of Scranton, National committee woman; Mrs. John Y. Huber, Jr., of Haverford; Mrs. Charles Stauffer of Rotherstown; Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia; attorney general James H. Duff, of Carnegie; former U. S. senator, James J. Davis, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Hannah M. Durham, of Allentown; Frederic D. Garman, of Philadelphia; secretary of revenue David W. Harris, Philadelphia chairman; Mrs. George Hemphill, of Beaver Falls; Frank C. Hilton, of Womelsdorf, young GOP State chairman.

secretary of agriculture, Miles Horst, Leo G. Knoll, of Scranton; Kenneth Kressler, of Easton; Henry Lark Sunbury; Roger Rowland, of New Castle; Orus J. Matthews, of Philadelphia; James Torrance, of Export; John O'Donnell, of Oil City; and G. Mason Owlett, of Wellsboro, National committeeman.

NEW HEADACHE
URBANA, Ill.—(INS)—Science has discovered another headache for farmers. This time it's a brand new soybean disease known as brown stem rot and found to be prevalent in Illinois. The disease was described by its discoverer, W. B. Allington, U. S. Department of Agriculture pathologist, and Benjamin Koehler, professor of crop pathology at the University of Illinois as a fungus growth which apparently develops with a cool season.

Veterans Made Idle Because Of Strikes Get Compensation

Ruling Is Issued By Justice Department Of State Of Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Veterans made idle by strikes were entitled to state unemployment compensation today under a ruling issued by the justice department.

The opinion, placing ex-servicemen on an equal footing with civilian strikers, granted immediate eligibility to former service men "with work credits" and covered retroactive cases. All workers involved in industrial disputes must undergo a five-week waiting period, however, before obtaining jobless benefits.

Upon announcing the decision, Gov. Edward Martin said benefits would be granted under a section of the law which provided for freezing of veterans' rights during service with the armed forces.

Will Be Eligible

"Any returning veteran who had acquired rights under the Pennsylvania law previous to his entry into the armed services, will be eligible under this ruling to full maximum benefits even though he be directly or indirectly engaged in an industrial dispute," the chief executive said.

Pennsylvania recognizes the sacrifices made by its sons and daughters during the war and we desire that our appreciation shall take tangible form," the governor added. "The veteran has always fought and will continue to find in me and my administration sympathetic understanding."

A stop-gap ruling was requested by 600 veteran-strikers who marched on the state capitol last week. Under Pennsylvania law they were unable to obtain state aid without exhausting federal benefits which have been withheld in cases involving industrial disputes.

Former German Heavy Cruiser To Begin Last Voyage

Leaves Boston Harbor On First Lap Of Trip To Pacific Atom Bomb Test

ABOARD THE U.S.S. PRINZ EUGEN, Jan. 31.—(INS)—The U.S.S. Prinz Eugen, former Nazi heavy cruiser, today starts another lap of her journey to the Pacific—and one of the strangest assignments in naval history.

Next May in the Marshall Islands, the Prinz Eugen will be exposed along with other ships selected as targets to the atom bomb test, designed to show the effect of the revolutionary explosive on sea power.

Right now the 18,460-ton ship is manned by 574 German officers and men, headed by Capt. Hans Jurgen Reinicke, who are supervised by 90

U.S. sailors and officers. Overall command is Capt. Arthur H. Graubart, of Los Angeles, a one-time Nazi prisoner of war.

Leaves Boston Harbor Immediate destination of the Prinz Eugen as she pulled out of Boston harbor today was the Philadelphia naval base, where the ship is slated to arrive Saturday. She will spend about a month there before proceeding to the Pacific.

Enroute to Philadelphia, the ships German gunners were scheduled to hold firing tests of its eight-inch guns and its ten 4.7 guns under U.S. naval and civilian observers led by Capt. J. S. Champlin of the U.S. Navy Bureau of Ordnance. The tests will be held on Narragansett bay.

It's not just a joy ride for the U.S. navy personnel aboard. The officers, at least, are scheduled to accompany the Prinz Eugen to the Pacific with an all-American crew and they've got a lot to learn about running a German ship.

Deer skins are bringing good money in New Zealand these days. Hunters are collecting from $12 to $20 apiece for them.

STATE COLLEGE—Student veterans living in the trailer campus for married couples at Pennsylvania State college have voted to name the streets of their community after alumni who lost their lives in the war.

LEBANON—The Evening Star viewed the most shortage realistically. "Lebanon may not have the bright spots or classy shops of the big cities," it stated, "but it does have meat."

Military Training Problem Debated

Kiwanians Have Enjoyable Time Discussing Need For Universal Training

FIRST OF PANEL DISCUSSIONS HELD

Kiwanis Club members sat on the side lines and cheered on or razed as four of their members debated the topic, "Shall we have compulsory military training?" at their weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday.

Just which side won, Referee Tom Paden has not yet revealed, having taken the matter under advisement. At any rate, a lot of angles were brought out by the debaters, which many had not thought about before.

John R. Hodge and Sam Lewis upheld the affirmative side of the question, which seemed to be the most popular one; while Lee Marvin and R. L. Meermans took the negative.

Many of the other members would have liked to have gotten into the melee, and undoubtedly would have, if time had permitted.

Program Chairman Joe Hartman, announced that several other panel discussions of moot questions would be held during the year, and the members are looking forward to them as Wednesday's event certainly proved enlightening.

Large Highway Contract Will Be Awarded By State

Ten Million Dollar Improvement Planned On William Penn Highway

HARRISBURG, Jan. 31.—(INS)—State Highway Secretary John U. Shroyer announced today that bids would be taken "within 60 days" for a 10 million dollar improvement program on the William Penn Highway.

The plan calls for construction of 21.69 miles of highway and a bridge over the Juniata River at Huntingdon on U. S. Route 22.

Most of the road will contain four lanes and will put the highway "on a par with any route within the commonwealth," Shroyer said. Individual projects will be located between Port Hunter, near Harrisburg, and Huntingdon.

The work was necessary because the highway "serves as an outlet to connect central Pennsylvania with both Philadelphia and Pittsburgh," Shroyer declared.

The library of the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D. C., contains more than 860,000 books, pamphlets and charts.

Inter-Racial Group Plans Promotion Of Brotherhood Week

Strengthened Democracy Is Aim Of Feb. 12-24 Program Planned By Local Group

Plans for a city-wide celebration of "American Brotherhood-In Peace as in War" on February 12-24, were laid out Wednesday afternoon by an inter-faith and inter-racial committee composed of Rev. Thomas J. Jones, chairman; Dr. Frank Burton; Dr. James Gillespie; Rabbi I. J. Gruen; Rabbi Hyman Krash; Miss Nannie Micheltre; Mrs. Alec Samuels, secretary; Mrs. Raymond Williams; and Miss Marguerite White.

Suggestions of how to promote team work in peace as in war, and how to strengthen the health of the democracy which belongs to all of us were discussed. It is hoped that these plans might lead to permanent and practical solutions of some of the problems of our racial and religious minority groups, with understanding that variety is a source of strength to the nation instead of being a weakness.

Radio and movie programs, talks by students at service clubs and women's organizations, as well as one community meeting to plan city-wide continuing cooperation, were thoroughly considered.

The committee will reconvene on Wednesday afternoon, February 6, at 2 o'clock.

Bataan Hero Asks For Proof That He Wed Manila Woman

'One-Man Army' Challenges Woman To Show Documentary Proof Of Marriage

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Major Arthur Wemuth, the "one-man army" of Bataan, today challenged the woman who claims he married her in Manila to bring forth some documentary proof.

Wemuth, accompanied by his wife Jean, whom he married 10 years ago, arrived in Chicago from his home at Traverse City, Mich., to confer with his lawyer over the dispute in which he is one of the central figures. He declined to reveal the name of the attorney.

But he emphatically denied again that he ever knew the woman who signed her name as "Mrs. Olivia Josephine Oswald Wemuth" to a marriage annulment petition filed in Manila Monday, Maj. Wemuth said: "I deny everything she said. I deny we were married. I deny we ever lived together."

"She made the charges. The burden of proof lies on her shoulders. If what she says is true, there must be some documentary proof, and she will have to bring it to light."

He refused further comment but explained he had cancelled a radio talk and several lectures to come to Chicago to confer with his lawyer. Concerning his political plans, including reports that he plans to run for the U. S. senate from Michigan, the major wryly commented:

"I guess this won't do my plans any good."

MacArthur Gets Jap Fan Letters

Students, Wives, Business Men Among Those Writing To Chief

By WILLIAM H. BUNTING

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—(INS.)—Douglas MacArthur receives from the Japanese people reflect a cross-section of opinion in the occupied nation.

Some of the letters ask favors, others strike at "big business," while many praise the occupation army.

Writers of one average day's batch ranged from an old man who wanted a quarter pound more rice daily to a professor who submitted a short cultural history of Japan.

Humorous Pathetic

Some of the letters are unintentionally humorous merely because of the mishandling of the English language. Some are pathetic, some are bold, but none attack the occupation policies.

One writer advised MacArthur he would appreciate it if United States troops would remain in Japan for 20 years because "truly we trust you."

Employees of the Yassada Electric company asked for election of management officials and said in a somewhat jumbled fashion:

"On postwar our nation are revolutionizing toward to democracy under the direction of your excellency which we were looking forward since long time."

The letters are addressed in various fashions. One came "MacArthur," another "Mister Marshall Mackasa."

"Admiral MacArthur"

Probably the one which gave the biggest surprise to the allied commander was addressed "Admiral MacArthur."

One letter from school officials asked that lodgings be found for three homeless teachers. The request was backed up with the claim that American soldiers wanted to study French at the school.

One Japanese wife asked MacArthur to bring her soldier-husband back from Manchuria so he could help her share the burden of reconstruction of the new Japan.

Students Against Militarists

Students by the score warn against the evils of Japan's traditional militarism. Many letters from students asked that those who had been attending now defunct military and naval colleges be barred from attending regular schools on the ground that the "evil influence of these militarists" will wreck attempts to educate Japan for democracy.

A lengthy letter from a professor asked for a personal interview and attacked the emperor system of government.

Other writers defend the emperor system and one in this category closed with the hope that MacArthur "retains health in this cold country."

Two letters told of the wartime activities of the Yokohama Specie bank and accused officers of war guilt. Another letter said a silk firm was a war profiteer and named two officials of the company, adding the following advice:

"These are the men you are chasing. Do not lose them."

The Carolina parakeet is now almost extinct. It once was abundant in states from Virginia to Colorado.

More than 190,000,000 bushels of soybeans will be produced in the United States this year, the second largest crop in history.

Poor Weatherman Deserves Pity

Making Weather Predictions Is Treacherous Vocation; Many Forecasts Are Correct

CLEVELAND, Jan. 31.—(INS.)—Pity the poor weatherman! When he is right, he gets the blame for inclement conditions; when he is wrong, he should have "stood in bed" or consulted the janitor for the correct prediction.

The general public, newspaper writers and radio commentators like to put weather forecasters (the U. S. variety) over the barrel for what is generally assumed to be "bad guesses."

No doubt, every forecaster could be convicted without a trial for predictions that never came true. What is difficult to understand, however, is that the same critical folks can applaud a 375 batting average of their favorite right-fielder, yet condemn a man who hits an 850 or 900 clip.

Originate In Washington

Weather forecasts originate in Washington, D. C. They go by teletype to district weather bureaus where the forecasters can make changes from an "on the spot" angle. These amended forecasts are later verified in the capital and believe me-forecasters can eat the very devil if they do not hit consistently the accepted average.

The weather bureau does operate in a laboratory, even though weather forecasting is not claimed to be an exact science. The forecasters depend on instruments which probe the atmosphere to determine advancing weather conditions (the same as a doctor uses instruments to determine changes in the health of his patient).

The doctor makes mistakes; so does the forecaster. But the doctor has the advantage because with present-day medical science and surgery, if he has any doubts he can open the patient to make certain of his diagnosis. The forecasters cannot reach up and squeeze out a passing cloud to assure that two inches of forecasted rain measure exactly two inches at any given spot.

Amazing Thing

The most amazing thing about the weather forecasting profession is that those in it can take a jibe in their stride and come back with another prediction which may be open to a subsequent wisecrack.

When a housewife calls the weather bureau and inquires whether the rain will hold off long enough for her washing to dry, she is accorded the same friendly service as the president would receive if he asked whether it would be safe meteorologically to attend a Missouri ox roast.

There are a lot of people who depend on the weather bureau for forecasts other than the general public which likes to know what the weather will be merely as a matter of convenience. When the weather is bad, the public is inconvenienced—and that is where the gripe originates.

The other folks who do not gripe at the service furnished by the weather bureau are the air services, shipmasters in the Great Lakes, the utility and transportation people, the contractors, farmers and many others whose work and fortunes are tied in the weather.

These services represent dollar and life savings which easily offset any feeling of dissatisfaction by a disgruntled caller says, "pooey on you. I could have done better by sticking my hand out the window."

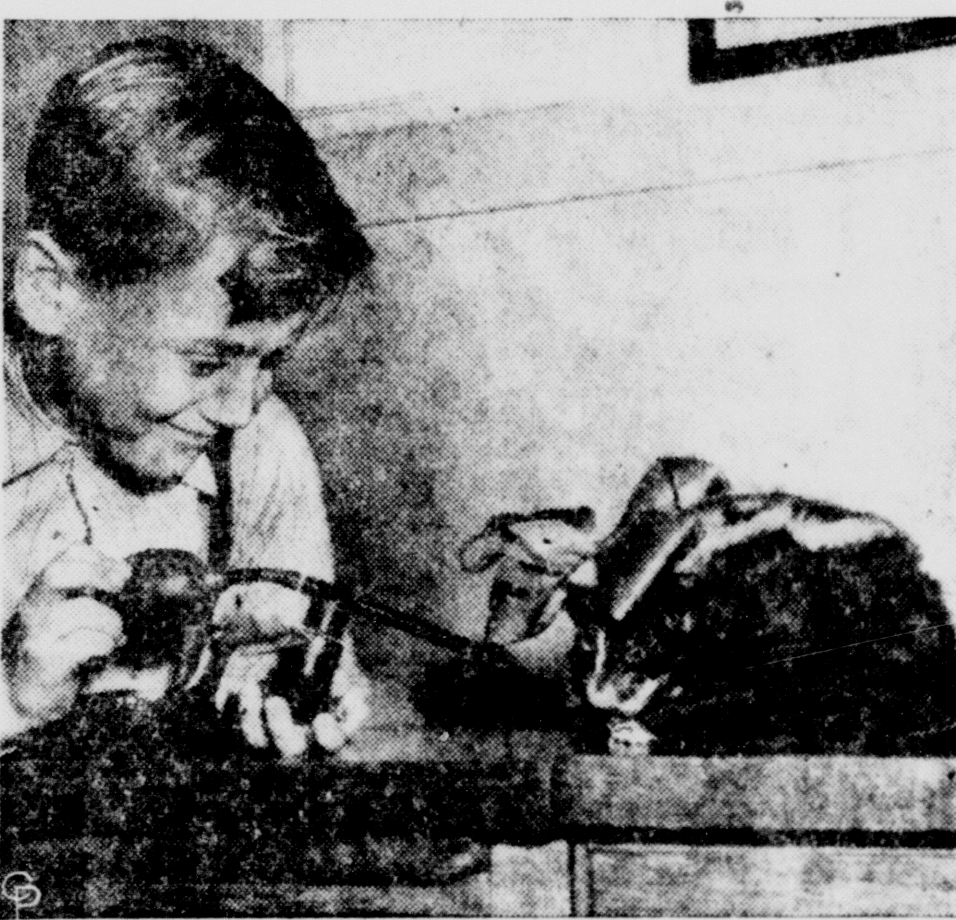

All the Rocky Mountain states except Wyoming showed slight increases in federal employment during the past year, according to the civil service commission.

JAP RE-ENACTS YANK EXECUTIONS

ON HIS KNEES near Shanghai, China, Jap Warrant Officer Mayama, who witnessed the execution of three Doolittle fliers after their spectacular raid on Tokyo, shows how the Yanks were bound to crosses and shot. Looking on are Col. John H. Hendren (left), Kansas City, Mo., and Capt. Robert N. Dwyer, New York, trial judge advocates in the impending war-crime trials against seven Jap officers and men who are charged with executing the captive airmen. (International Soundphoto)

SKUNK DOWN TO HIS LAST SCENT

THERE'S NO SCENTS TO THIS, as you can see—for little Billy Wedje, 8, is in the act of completely deodorizing Elmer, a pet skunk, at the Animal Welfare League in Chicago. Billy is using some sort of fancy perfume that even debunks beribboned skunks. (International Soundphoto)

In the center is the crown of the Holy Roman Empire, once worn by Charlemagne, and arranged in the collection are some of the Austrian crown jewels. At left of table are Col. Theodore S. Paul, Philadelphia; Andrew Ritchie, Buffalo, N. Y., and Lt. Comdr. Perry Scott. At right is Col. Ernest Dewald. (International)

Fear Market Loss As Surplus Goods Remain In Tangle

Sluggish Movement Of Army Property To Agencies Vexes Ordnance Officials

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(INS)—War department ordnance sources predicted gloomily that markets for much of the army's surplus property will be gone before the "disposal-tangle" is unravelled.

Records showed that through 1945 less than one-third of the army's three billion, 100 million dollars worth of surplus property even had been taken from army depots by disposal agencies.

A spokesman said that release of property by the army to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation amounted in most cases to a "mere paper transaction" as the goods remained in army warehouses and depots.

The ordnance branch alone was said to have on its hands 300000 unneeded automotive items, including trucks, jeeps, tires, automobile parts and tools. Spokesmen said that a breakdown of the number of items in each category was not available. That department assertedly has been relieved of only 176 million dollars worth of 500 millions dollars worth of equipment declared surplus to its needs.

One official declared that "the government and the taxpayer will be out of luck because by the time we get the tangle unravelled manufacturers will be putting brand-new goods on the market and will be out of business."

Feast Days of a People

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

Booths of tree branches upon flat roofs.

"Of course, I know I'm eating soup with a fork! Do you thing it's easy?"

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Feb. 3 is Leviticus, the Memory Verse being Psalm 126:3, "Jehovah hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad."

In point of time, the book of Leviticus covers only one month, while our commentator says the book of Genesis covers 2370 years, and Exodus 140 years. Leviticus was written to secure the Jews "their physical, moral and spiritual well-being."

They were a nation apart, and this book of the Old Testament has, by its implicit directions on every phase of Jewish religious life, kept them apart from other peoples. Theirs—as no other nation has been kept, although the laws laid down for them may not have been kept perfectly.

Jehovah had brought them out of slavery in Egypt; had helped them in every conceivable way. He had forgiven their many back-slidings and promised them a land "flowing with milk and honey"; therefore they should sanctify themselves and spend their days doing His will and worshipping Him according to His laws. They were to be a "nation of priests, a peculiar treasure."

"Sanctify yourselves therefore, and be ye holy: for I am Jehovah your God. And ye shall keep My statutes, and do them: I am Jehovah who sanctifieth you."

Passover Is First

These were the feasts set for the Hebrews—the feasts of Jehovah. The first was the Passover, commemorating, of course, the passing over by the angel of death the houses of the Hebrews whose door-posts were sprinkled with the blood of a newly slain lamb. This was to be celebrated "in the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month at even." This would be about the beginning of April. This day was the "preparation of the Passover." Most workers were to relinquish work "either from morning or from noon." Leaven was eaten until noon and must be purged in the afternoon. Every Israelite who was "sanctified" and did not live further than 15 miles from the walls of Jerusalem, had to appear before the Lord in the Holy City with an offering in proportion to his means.

The next day, the 15th, was the "feast of unleavened bread." "Seven days shall ye eat unleavened bread." There was a strict law that all leaven must be banished from the houses after the beginning of the Passover.

Next came the feast of first fruits, which was observed during the week of unleavened bread. On the day the Passover was killed, men marked the spots in the grain fields where the sheaf of the first fruits were to be reaped. Next day, at sunset, three men went to the selected field, and with witnesses present, cut the marked ears of grain and brought them into the sanctuary. Next day, the third, the sheaf was waved before the Lord.

Silver Trumpet Blown

"In the seventh month, on the first day of the month, shall be a solemn rest unto you, a memorial of blowing of trumpets, a holy convocation." That fell on the first of September-October. There was a blowing of trumpets and rejoicing from morning until evening. It is thought that the trumpets used in the blowing were the silver ones which are described in Numbers.

"Howbeit on the tenth day of this seventh month is the day of atonement; it shall be a holy convocation unto you, and ye shall afflict your souls; and ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto Jehovah. And ye shall do no manner of work in that same day; for it is a day of atonement, to make atonement for you before Jehovah your God. All the chapter is devoted to rules concerning this great day of atonement, Yom Kippur.

It was only on this day that the high priest entered into the Holy of Holies with blood of sacrifice. He sprinkled it first upon the mercy seat seven times. He made atonement first for himself, and for his house, then for "the uncleanness of the children of Israel."

The Feast of the Tabernacles came on the "fifteenth day of this seventh month," the last of the great annual festivals. It was observed for a week. "And ye shall take you on the first day the fruit of goodly trees, branches of palm trees, and boughs of thick trees, and willows of the brook, and ye shall rejoice before Jehovah your God seven days."

"Ye shall dwell in booths seven days. . . that your generation may know that I made the children of Israel to dwell in booths, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt."

It must have been a very picturesque sight to see a nation living in these leafy tents. This was the harvest festival—when the vintage had been gathered. So was Israel taught to celebrate the goodness of God.

NAUTICAL ORIGIN

NEW YORK.—(INS)—The term "the bitter end" has a nautical origin, reports Ships magazine. A ship's anchor chain, at the point where it was fastened to a vertical timber called the bitt, was known as the bitter end. Thus, when the chain has been paid out to "the bitter end," there's nothing more that can be done.

Mock Ceremoney May Be Factor In Wermuth Case

Woman In Manila Files Annulment
Suit, Claiming She Married
"One Man Army"

By PAT ROBINSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

MANILA, Jan. 31.—The woman who calls herself Mrs. Olivia Josephine Oswald Wermuth admitted today that her annulment suit against Major Arthur Wermuth, Bataan hero, may be based on a mock wedding ceremony.

She has filed an annulment suit in Manila, claiming she married the "one man army of Bataan" Dec. 7, 1941, on the roof garden of the Grand Eastern hotel in Manila. She is asking 200 pesos and attorney's fees.

Her attorney, Leo Castillo, was frankly pessimistic about his client's case, and declared: "If I were Wermuth, I'd ignore the whole thing."

In Chicago, Major Wermuth described the woman as "a casual acquaintance" and challenged her to bring forth documentary proof of her claim.

"Married At Party"

The woman is now working as a receptionist in the office of the American provost marshal in Manila. Asked to describe the ceremony, she said:

"An American named Steinback married us at a party one night. The minister wore a 'turn around' collar and white civilian suit. We have no marriage license or marriage certificate but remember signing some paper."

My Aunt Mary Torres, now dead, and a Lieut. Tom Townsend witnessed the ceremony and somebody took a picture of us together. I've got that picture and some letters."

The woman is a "Mestiza," of American-Spanish parentage and has a rather shapely figure but flat features and a mottled complexion. She claims that when Wermuth was released after three years as a prisoner of the Japanese he visited her occasionally while in Manila. Attorney Castillo said he will try to serve a summons on Wermuth but that the case is not likely to be heard in the near future.

Castlewood Youth Suffers Accidental Bullet Wound Today

Duane Workman, 23, of Castlewood, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital suffering from a revolver bullet wound in his right leg sustained when he fell out of a car in which he was given a "lift" from Edgewood City to a point near the Edgewood City high school, at nine a. m. today. The bullet entered his leg at the knee and exited at the ankle. The motorist brought him to New Castle to a hospital office, from where the ambulance took him to the hospital.

Workman told Lieut. Jones and Policeman Boyle he got out of the car and accidentally touched the trigger of the revolver, which was in an overcoat pocket.

He said the revolver was of German manufacture and he intended to sell it in New Castle.

State police have assumed charge of the accidental shooting inquiry because it occurred outside the city.

AROUND CITY HALL

Between now and Monday Council will decide whether or not to employ an engineering crew to help City Engineer John Z. Street put through the post-war program which will be paid for out of the proceeds of the half million dollar bond issue. At present he does all the city's engineering and also supervises the operation of the disposal plant. He is swamped with work, according to reports.

The engineer must be one registered with the state, and before he may be appointed he must have passed a civil service test. However, when they cannot be had, an emergency exists and he may be employed "temporarily." To do the surveying it may be possible to hire a licensed surveyor.

Sewers are to be surveyed and some possibly built this year in addition to a lot of routine city work, hence in order to prevent a delay in the program, Council proposes to move quickly to get surveys underway.

Council met Thursday in City Hall and authorized the cancellation of the War Department's request of a lease it held on Cunningham Park. The city will pay $4,000 to the government for the 14 buildings and contents.

When Council met Thursday in City Hall an ordinance was introduced, then reported favorably from committee authorizing the city to buy the Richard Dana property, at Grant and North Jefferson streets, for $30,000, one thousand of which has already been paid. It will be the site of a new city building. The balance of the money will be paid from a one-half million dollar bond issue.

Young Shoplifter In Clutches Of Law

Staten Island Girl, 17, Admits
Taking Merchandise Valued
At $2,000

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Pretty Melva Austin, a 17-year-old jobless dress model, confessed today that she had been shoplifting since Thanksgiving to provide fine clothes for herself and Christmas gifts for friends to whom she was ashamed to admit she had lost her job.

Melva was held under $1500 bail on grand larceny charges after a store detective estimated her total thefts at $2000 representing expensive clothing and other costly items purloined in New York's most fashionable stores.

She told police she left her husband home on Staten Island a year ago, moved to a Manhattan lodging house, got herself a job as dress model and acquired a host of new friends who she described as "fine people."

She had two dresses and a suit valued at $181 in a hatbox when arrested. Stolen finery worth $360 was found in her room.

Average Citizen Invested $293.12 In U. S. War Bonds

Hawaii Leads In Per Capita Purchases With Average Investment Of $565.54

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(INS)—The treasury announced today that the average American invested $293.12 in series E defense and war savings bonds between May 1, 1941, and Dec. 31, 1945, which covered the second world war.

Hawaii led all the states and territories in per capita purchases of E bonds, with an average investment of $565.54 for every man, woman and child in the island territory.

The District of Columbia, with heavy government employee participation in payroll savings, ranked second in the nation with an average of $560 per capita. The Canal Zone was third with $458.68.

Oregon First
Among the 48 states, Oregon was first, with $444.08 per capita. It was because of Oregon's early lead in defense bond pledges that its state bond campaign administrator was called to Washington the day after Pearl Harbor and made an assistant secretary of the treasury. This was Ted R. Gamble, who in mid-1943 became national director of the war finance division.

Connecticut was second among the states with $422.36, Washington state third with $420.53, California fourth with $406.70 and Michigan fifth with $403.76 in per capita E bond investments. All five of these were among the leading states in war production.

In the total amounts invested in E bonds for the May 1941-December 1945 period New York led the nation with $4,834,219,000, followed by California with $2,205,452,000; Pennsylvania with $2,969,227,000; Illinois $2,793,970,000; Ohio $2,394,678,000; and Michigan $2,171,176,000 in per capita E bond investment. All these states, too, were heavy producers of war materials with wartime payrolls.

Minister Admits Killing Daughter

Michigan Minister Held For Murder Attempt On Elder, Faces New Charge

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 31.—(INS)—Kent County Prosecutor Menno R. Bolt said today that the Rev. Frank E. Siple, held on a charge of attempted murder of an elder in his church, had admitted giving poison to his daughter who died in 1939.

Siple is the pastor of the Church of God in Southland Park. He is accused of assaulting with intent to kill Lyle Doan, the elder, who charged that the minister struck him with an iron pipe and previously had given him poisoned candy.

Daughter Unbalanced
Prosecutor Bolt said that Siple admitted giving poison to his daughter, Dorothy Ann, who was 17 years old at the time when he was shown a report from a state toxicologist. The report said that the girl's vital organs revealed the presence of arsenic. The body of Dorothy Ann who died July 31, 1939, was exhumed for the examination.

Bolt quoted Siple as saying he poisoned his daughter because she was mentally incompetent and he did not want her sent to an insane asylum.

Pleads Guilty To Extortion Charge

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Reynold Chelkiss, the AWOL private who posed as an army captain and tried to extort $2,000 from a slain gangster's wife, today awaited sentence after pleading guilty to charges of blackmail and larceny.

Trapped by police a week ago when he tried to blackmail Mrs. Marian Gianni, whose racketeer husband was shot to death outside her apartment, Chelkiss also admitted stealing a $1,000 watch from an Asphinn woman.

Chelkiss' wife, also charged with blackmail in the extortion plot, is free on bond.

ASSAULT FOOT REMEDIES

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—(INS)—The Journal of the American Medical Association today called the human foot "the target of unbelievable chemical abuse."

Four Journal investigators studied 400 sufferers and reported that many ointments, powders and salves now on the market irritate, rather than relieve, inflammation of the feet, especially "athlete's foot."

MARKET TODAY IS IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Profit takers took their toll in the stock market again today, depressing a number of leaders more than a point. Trading was orderly with volume tending to dwindle as prices eased off. First hour turnover totalled 380,000 shares.

Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, U. S. Steel, and Chrysler weakened more than a point each. Their performance stalemated rails, utilities, and aviation, most losing fractions. Philip Morris trailed a point less. Other big board groups were lower in a dull trade.

Bonds were irregular.

Express Thanks To Many Workers In Drive Success

Unselfish Donation Of Time And Effort By Many Persons Put Drive
Over

As the Victory Clothing Collection is nearing its close, Austin Webb, general chairman of the drive, wishes to express his appreciation to all those who have helped in any way in making the drive a success. W. L. Timblin has worked 10 and 12 hours a day during the past month, donating his services in any capacity in which they were needed. The Pennsylvania Power company has been extra-generous in its support of this effort. L. J. Lewis and William Morgan of the company have given valuable assistance in forming the organization to do the work for the drive.

The New Castle News has allotted much space in its columns to give information about the collection in the county. We say—thank you, George Conway, editor, who has been sympathetic to our efforts, and to Carl Romack, who has written the articles submitted to him during the drive. Richard Rantz and Dr. J. E. Ginsberg wrote very interesting stories aiding the cause.

Schools Helped Much
The schools, both county and city including pupils, teachers and principals, did outstanding work in the collection of all kinds of material. Roy F. Conway for the rural districts and Glenn McCracken for the city schools acted as supervisors in this work and we should not forget the fine effort of J. C. Ward also.

The Catholic schools also did a big part in supporting the drive with generous contributions. Fred Clarke of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association was responsible for furnishing trucks to transport all city donations to the collection headquarters.

George Ritter furnished conveyances to move all the material to the cars. Edwin O. Reed aided in seeing that all collections from the rural districts were delivered to the headquarters.

Can't Mention Everyone
It is almost impossible to give credit to each and every person who aided this cause. However, listed below are most of the organizations that have given assistance throughout the drive.

Catholic women's organization, Women's club of New Castle, women's organizations of the city churches, Business and Professional Women's club, Junior Women's club, Reading circles, different garden clubs, women of the Salvation Army, the women's club in connection with the colored YWCA, the Council of Jewish Women and the College club.

Different industries and business houses furnished splendid advertising space and material to aid the cause. The service clubs of the city furnished men to prepare all material for shipment. The Wolves club, Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary and the Kiwanis club of New Wilmington all gave valuable help.

Mayor Haven and other city officials have given their support and assisted in many ways to the success of this undertaking.

Boys of the vocational classes of the senior high school did fine work as did the boys from the junior high schools. Boy Scouts kept up their good work in this drive as they have done in past efforts in the city.

Gave Bags and Boxes
Cartons and boxes were donated by the industries and business houses of the community, and were used in the packing and shipping of all donations.

It took numerous bags to contain all the shoes that were received at headquarters and these containers were furnished by the different provision companies and feed stores in the city.

Much credit for the success of the collection must be given to Austin Webb, chairman of the drive. His enthusiasm, hard work long hours and good spirits were an inspiration to all who worked with him.

But much as these individuals and organizations helped in putting this drive over, the final credit must go to the residents of this city and its surrounding districts without whose generous gifts of clothing there would have been no success. Anyone who gave something to this great effort, be it a pair of shoes or a whole bundle of clothing, can tell himself "I have helped someone somewhere," and perhaps aided in a small way to alleviate the untold suffering and want of a stricken person many miles away in a foreign land.

Seek To Control Wage Changes In Building Work

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31.—(INS)—The Third Regional Wage Stabilization board today announced a campaign to control all wage adjustments in the building and construction industry in the area.

Maurice Louik, board attorney said inspections started this week in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

WSB approval of all wage increases in the industry is required under federal regulations, even though no adjustments in price ceilings or government costs are involved, Louik pointed out.

Wages Not Frozen
H. emphasized that construction workers' wages are not "frozen" under the government regulations, and said increase will be permitted in special situations where warranted.

"If the cost of homes to veterans and to home owners generally is to remain within reasonable limits wages as well as other costs must be held in line," Louik said.

"There can be no substantial increase in either wages or prices without making ownership of homes prohibitive for most families."

"Higher building costs would inevitably result in higher rents, with increased living costs for everyone," he said.

Both employers and labor unions are cooperating in the drive, Louik added.
